

SCI makes fashion statement

By Cathy Juskow

Springfield Collegiate's grad season hit the catwalk with style Feb. 15 as students, staff and business people came together to hold their 2024 Fashion Show.

There was a large turnout for the event held in the gymnasium, which was transformed with gold, white and black balloons as backdrop on a stage with a lit runway that would rival any fashion show.

Tables were elegantly transformed with lights, and there were chandeliers on each side of the runway along with huge white snow flaked balls hanging from the ceiling. Refreshments were served with tables full of all sorts of dainties, cookies and cakes to choose from.

Masters of ceremonies Larry Denisiuk and Sidney Jones did a great job with the commentary as the models worked the runway. Clothing modelled started with casual wear including funky Hawaiian-inspired colours and styles, followed by elegant formal wear consisting of bejewelled gowns and smart men's suits. Fashions were supplied by Mark's Work

Warehouse, Boathouse, Pineridge Hollow, Poplar & Birch, David's Bridal, Malabar Apparels, Helene's Bridal and Christie's Bridal & Boutique.

The students were entertaining to watch as they were relaxed and being themselves as they walked the runway and danced to the music. The music playlist was well done covering all genres including hits Somthin' Stupid by Frank and Nancy Sinatra to Sharp Dressed Man by ZZ Top to You Need to Calm Down by Taylor Swift, and everything in between.

Photo by Cathy Juskow
Alexis Campbell (left) and Ben Sokal hit the runway as part of SCI's Grad 2024 Fashion Show.

"I don't need newspapers; I get my news from the Internet."

"I know, right? And I don't need farmers; 'cause I get my food at the supermarket."

POT OF GOLD

GIVEAWAY

SUNDAY, MARCH 17

SOME CONDITIONS APPLY. DETAILS AT SOUTHBEACHCASINO.CA

WIN $5000 IN GOLD